About

A self-taught Web Developer with a genuine passion to learn, improve and succeed.

Excited by creating sleek and elegant applications that are used by real people.

Currently looking for an opportunity that will help focus and hone front-end skills with the aim of becoming a fullstack developer.

Although music and audio was my first love, 2020 has allowed me to find a new and exciting passion in the world of Web Development.

Work Experience

Independent

Web Developer (2020 - present)

- Developed 5 frontend websites utilising HTML, CSS and JavaScript.
- Designed a website from a Marvel prototype which was then successfully pitched to a client.
- Developed a node.js back-end for a React website.

Splice Post-Production

Dubbing Mixer (2015 - 2020)

- Mixing audio on many high-profile shows for primetime television.
- Maintaining work quality in a high-pressure environment.
- Recognising a client's expectations and exceeding them.
- Constantly being in demand and recommended by clients.
- Troubleshooting and problem-solving various technical difficulties.

Education

Leeds Beckett University

Music Production B.A. (2:1)

Ravenswood School

3 A Levels (A-C)

11 GCSEs (A-C)

Dear John,

I was so excited to see your opening of _____ at _____. As a driven, and imaginative self-taught Web Developer; this is exactly the opportunity I've been looking for in order to harness my skillset. I feel as though my knowledge of HTML, CSS and JavaScript, when combined with being an incredibly fast learner, would only be advantageous for _____.

The self-taught route

A compelling introductory statement

A paragraph about why you're the perfect dev for hire

A paragraph on why this particular developer job is ideal for you

A closing statement with a strong call to action

Sincerely,

Ben Worldlidge
